Hello,

Hostgator had a promotione last month, $17 for 1 domain and 1 year hosting, my friend tell me and let me to buy some hosting for them, and they will give me the money.

That is why some commission are same computer.

Thanks!

Thank you for the quick response. There were four hosting sales showing as from your computer. Are you going to continue to run commissioned activity from the same computer or device that you use?

Sincerely,

回复

Of cause NO. That is special promotion as i am a webmaster so i can not refuse it.

If you do intend to run more through your own computer, you would need to update your Network Profile with an explanation of how and why that is. As a webmaster, that could be something the advertisers would expect, for at least some of the traffic.
